Testimony for Tranquility re: Mary Lopez from ommertcd1947@comcast.net to you 8:17 AM

From the moment I met Kim and Keith Henderson, I felt a warmth about them, a genuineness in their voices, and I could tell they were caring and compassionate people. I immediately felt comfortable that this was the place I wanted for Mary. As a nurse, I felt Kim was always right on top of the medications Mary received, making sure they were given in a timely manner. She was very professional about this and took her job seriously. She gave medications with accuracy as the doctor ordered and kept records up to date, ensuring that Mary wouldn't run out. The only time Mary ran out was her own doing. She didn't always have enough money or she would forget to stop and pick them up at Walgreen's, or she would just become obstinate.

The home was kept neat, clean and orderly. I was told by Mary that the meals were tasty and Keith was a good cook. Her laundry was always done so she never ran out of clothes.

They were always concerned about her, even when she wasn't very nice to them. Mary has serious emotional issues, which she has had since childhood, having endured a very difficult upbringing. When her husband died about 7 years ago, I felt she just gave up on life. She certainly gave the Hendersons a difficult time on many occasions but they were patient and saw that she definitely needed psychiatric help, which she is now receiving. There were many ups and downs with Mary throughout the year she was there, and I frankly don't know how they put up with many of her escapades. They have to be a very special couple. Kim always called to make me aware of difficult things that were happening and always expressed caring and concern for her.

I feel Mary is ready to be on her own again, mostly due to her experience at Tranquility and I thank them for what they did.

Sincerely,

Connie Ommert
